ALTON, ILLINOIS

History of the Ursulines in Alton

For over four hundred years the Ursuline Order, founded by St. Angela of Merici, has devoted itself to the education of youth especially young girls.

For one hundred years, the Ursulines have taught the youth of Alton. Right Reverend Damian Juncker. Bishop of the Alton Diocese, asked the Ursuline Order to take charge of the Catholic schools of Alton. In March, 1859, seven Sisters from the Ursuline Community in St. Louis moved into a three-storied house nearly opposite the Hayner Library on State Street. This was the first Ursuline Convent in Alton.

In 1860, a new site on Fourth Street was purchased. A new convent was built there and on December 28, 1863, it was solemnly blessed and dedicated by Bishop Juncker. After a few years, with many new Sisters in the area, a new wing was added and dedicated by the Right Reverend Bishop Ryan, D.D., of happy memory, under the title of the Holy Family.

At the close of the last century, the Sovereign Pontiff, Leo XIII, expressed a desire for the unification of the Ursulines throughout the world. In obedience to the Holy Father, the Alton Ursulines sent delegates to Rome where, on November 21, 1900, they subscribed to the Articles forming a canonical Union of Ursulines.

As the Ursuline Community increased its numbers, the Convent on Fourth Street became totally inadequate. In 191, the Ursuline Sisters purchased twenty-eight acres of the old Armstrong place. This was used for some time as a Novitiate.

The coming of Right Reverend James A. Griffin to the diocese of Springfield in Illinois added a new impetus to the work of the Ursulines in this diocese. The present beautiful convent on Danforth Street, is a result of his advice and encouragement. At this convent the Sisters conducted an Academy of Music and Art, a School of Commerce and a Child Garden. At this time, they were also teaching at three parishes.

The need of a Catholic High School for the Catholic students of the area was imperative. The old convent on Fourth Street was razed and Marquette High School was built. This institution has prepared hundreds of Catholic citizens.

The Ursulines now teach at Marquette High School, at St. Bernard in Wood River, St. Patrick, St. Ambrose in Godfrey, Sts. Peter and Paul, and maintain a Child Garden at the Danforth convent. A recent addition to Marquette was opened in 1957.

Dedication

Ursuline Coat-of-Arms

We, the seniors of 1959, wish to dedicate this edition of the Explorer to our Ursuline teachers who, this year, are commemorating the centenary of their foundation in Alton. With a deep sense of pride and with lasting gratitude we join in the celebration of this happy occasion. We speak not only for ourselves, graduates and students of Marquette, but also for the many fathers and mothers who have benefited by the Ursulines' long successful years in this city. Esteeming them as true educators, dedicated to the lofty pursuit of Christian ideals in their own lives and in their apostolic work we express a sincere prayer that theirs may be the rich reward expressed beautifully in the words of Holy Scripture

> "Those who instruct others unto justice shall shine as stars for all eternity." (Daniel 12:3)

The Seniors

Graduation presents a welcome opportunity to fulfill the pleasant duty to offer, on behalf of the Church and the Diocese they have served so nobly, grateful and prayerful felicitations to the Ursuline Nuns on the observance of the centenary of their coming to Alton.

The graduating class of 1959 of Marquette High School has the honor and distinction of representing all the past and present students of the Ursuline Nuns in this centenary observance. It is also your responsibilty. Be grateful and loyal; give a good account of yourselves. That will be your worthy return for what you have received of Ursuline education.

With cordial blessing.

William A. O'Connor

Bishop of Springfield in Illinois

My dear Seniors:

Your graduation from Marquette High School marks the successful completion of twelve years of Catholic education. For this great blessing let us—you, your parents, the nuns and I—give thanks together to Almighty God.

The privilege of a Catholic education carries with it obligations: to god, to our Country and to the Church. During your years at Marquette you have been informed of these obligations. Fervent prayer and the frequent reception of Christ's Sacraments will enable you to fulfill them.

My prayers and those of the nuns will always be with you that God will bless you abundantly and bring us all to the Eternal Commencement.

Religious Formation

Richard Smith, Freshman Religion (11), studies the levels of existence by means of a diagram.

Carol Misegades, Sophomore Religion (19), points to an important geographical location in Our Lord's earthly life.

"Man has a spiritual and immortal soul. He is a person, marvelously endowed by his Creator with gifts of body and mind. He is a true 'microcosm' as the ancients said, a world in miniature, with a value far surpassing that of the vast, inanimate cosmos."

—Pius XI

Ed Henkhaus, Junior Logic (12), proves the immortality of the soul by means of a syllogism.

Rosemary Drew, Senior Psychology (3), studies the hylomorphic theory of man by the use of the outline method.

Mother Carmelita adjusts a record of Beethoven's Third Symphony to be played for the members of the class.

Classes in Mathematics

Using trigonometry, John Albers solves a problem in surveying while Mother Ignatius watches his techniques.

Using the points calculated by Joe Long, Carol Watsker indicates the equation which has resulted.

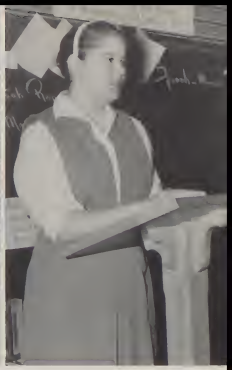

Lyndel Leritz and Patricia Duello demonstrate geometrical constructions.

Sarah Cotter and Kathleen Stephan, English I students, correlate their study of "The Merchant of Venice" with sentence constructions.

Elizabeth Alson, English II student, evaluates the wealth of her paragraph to determine if she has achieved Unity, Coherence, Emphasis.

Stephanie Meszaros, a student of English III, gains poise and skill in voice diction by speaking before her class.

The Study of English Fosters Creative Expresssion

Senior English students, Pat Gillespie, Judy Gavin, Jack Glynn, look with pride on their graded compositions. This work reflects the power of expression they have developed.

Spiritual Activities

Reverend Father Watson, assisted by Jim Albers and Larry Burch, begins the Mass of the Holy Spirit to beg blessings for the school year.

Our chaplain, Reverend Father Watson, leads the prayers of the Act of Consecration to the Sacred Heart. Each year during the month of October the entire studenty body unites in this devotional tribute to the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

The event pictured here is that of the Solemn Requiem High Mass celebrated by Reverend Father Watson assisted by Fathers Gallenbach and Schmertmann. Joining our prayers with those of the grieving faithful throughout the world we pay tribute to our saintly and revered Pope Pius XII.

"Be holy youth: We mean a youth that is firm but humble. aware of its powerlessness to repel its enemies from within and without by its own strength alone: a youth. therefore, which prays each day and which ardently draws on the sources of supernatural life. which pour forth so abundantly from the Church of Christ."

"Sports are an efficacious antidote against a soft and easy life; they awaken a sense of order; they serve as a test for endurance and a mastery of one's self, as well as imparting courage without empty show or cowardice."

—Pius XII

The camera freezes the action as sophomore back, Dave Huber, and a Riverview linebacker wait for the pass to be completed.

A host of Marquette tacklers move in on a Valle player who seems to have lost all hope as Jim Funk hits first from behind.

Scatback, Bob Van Buren, racks up another TD as Riverview players lag behind.

Co-Captain John Dunker and Bob Van Buren nail a Valle player as Mike Cleary moves in to secure the tackle.

Jim Funk, Marquette quarterback, makes considerable gain as Bob Van Buren, on ground, takes out two Valle High assailants.

Offense, in the person of Marquette fullback, Co-Captain Fritz Leighty, bulls into Defense, an unidentified Riverview Ram.

Jim Funk hits paydirt as onlookers watch in awe during Marquette's first game against Riverview.

The "gang-tackling" tactics of the '58 Explorers, as illustrated here against Alton High, was one reason for their success this season.

Graduation Morning

The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass begins the day for the Marquette graduates. The baccalaureate sermon is preached at this time by Reverend Father Watson. Dressed in cap and gown the graduates join together in prayer during the most sublime Sacrifice of the Mass in order to sanctify the important activities of their Graduation Day.

The graduates enjoy the traditional Graduation Breakfast held in the high school cafeteria. Seated at the faculty table are the officers of the Student Council and the Senior Class President. At this time the officers express their gratitude to all who have helped them become mature Catholic students and they also speak appropriate words of parting to their senior classmates.

Graduation

"Then the time will come, Catholic youth, for your collaboration. How many beautiful works are awaiting your hand! The rebuilding of society on a Christian basis; the restoring to honor and dignity of the gospel and its morality; the renovating of the family, giving back to marriage its aureole of sacramental dignity and to newly-weds the sense of their responsibilities; the re-affirming, among all classes of society, of the true notions of authority, of discipline, of respect for social laws and for the rights and duties that people owe one another. This is your tomorrow . . .
